

FRENCH MARTINI

SHAKE

50 ml vodka
5 ml honey
35 ml pineapple juice

STRAIN INTO CHAMPAGNE GLASS

Never forget the ingredients for this classic drink... and the print will brighten up your walls too. 40x50cm. £13.90, posterlounge.co.uk

Silver 'acrobat' cocktail stirrers. Just in case your guests aren't as particular as James Bond when it comes to their order. €47 for pair, ksl-living.fr

We can't get enough of these pretty handblown tulip flutes; pink might not even seem a Christmassy colour, but it works. €73 for pair, comptoirazur.fr

This 'Delice' bar stool certainly is delicious. Plush teal velvet with a sinuous gold frame: ultra chic and calls for a cocktail dress. £160, bykoket.com

HOUSE PARTY

Christmas is for cocktails but also for quality time with friends and family – so save money, stay warm and bring the party into your home

The pineapple has long been an emblem of French royalty – so feel like a king shaking your cocktails even if your skills are less than majestic. £34, oliverbonas.com

Having a cheese and wine night? This elegant marble cheeseboard and knife set will show off your comté and camembert in style. Also available with silver edging. £36.95, miaffleur.com

Olives are an essential cocktail accompaniment, whether actually used to garnish or just munched alongside. The silver 'acrobat' keeps the sticks handy too. €53, ksl-living.fr

How cool are these vintage martini glasses with the Eiffel Tower on the base? A must for any die-hard Paris lovers. £64 for pair, alanirecollection.com

Keep bottles and bar bits close at hand on this stylish gilt mirrored trolley. £295, miaffleur.com

No more tepid champagne! Keep this gleaming stainless steel ice bucket nearby for all celebrations. €102.80, coin-fr.com

This little tool might be doing a lot of work, so it's worth investing in a high-quality one (here with a lovely olive wood handle). Known in French as a tire-bouchon. €58.50, coin-fr.com